18 August 1952

Dear General Eisenhower:

In accordance with the President's instructions that I provide you with information on the world situation similar to that which he receives each Friday morning, I suggest that the substance of these briefings in condensed form be bound in a folder, together with a very short summaries of current intelligence estimates, and delivered to you each week or ten days by an officer of this Apency. The reading time should not exceed fifteen minutes.

After you have read and any questions which occur to you have been answered, the officer can return the folder to me, since its contents are of a classified nature which must by law remain in the custody of an officer who is properly cleared for security. While you personally are so cleared, you should not be burdened with the responsibility of securing documents of this nature.

If the above is satisfactory, will you be good enough to have one of your personal assistants make up a tentative schedule of dates and places of delivery that will be convenient to you?

Faithfully.

/s/ Walter B. Smith

As you know, I have been trying to facilitate an orderly transition to the incoming Administration, and to that end I have asked that everyone in the Executive branch be helpful in every way possible to General Eisenhower's representatives.

I would appreciate it if you could let me have, not later than January 10, 1953, a brief report with respect to what has happened on this subject in your department or agency, covering such matters as materials you have prepared to aid the new administration; requests for assistance you have received from General Eisenhower's representatives; and conferences and other consultations held to smooth the transition.
